

Safety tips to follow during this holiday season

Holiday travel: When driving, be aware of snowy conditions or icy roads if you live in an area with frequent snow. Give yourself extra time to get to your destination, decrease your speed, and know alternate routes.

Holiday theft: Theft rises during the months of November and December. Make sure to secure everything that you can by locking up cars, windows, garages, and homes.

Package delivery: With online shopping more popular than ever, many people experience their packages being stolen off their front porch. If you are expecting a package, request signature confirmation or have a trusted neighbor hold onto it to prevent theft.

How to give back this holiday season

At the core of every holiday season is the spirit and importance of giving. Consider the following, if you are financially able...

Sponsor a family: Many churches and stores offer opportunities to "adopt" a family in need to help them buy presents for their kids or provide a Christmas dinner.

Help the homeless: Donate blankets, gloves, socks, and jackets to homeless shelters to help the homeless during the cold winter months.

Donate to a food bank: Whether you donate time, money, or food, food banks run low during this time of year and need extra help.

Send a card: Simply send Christmas cards to your community's firemen, police officers, teachers, EMT's, and deployed troops. This simple gesture is sure to go a long way.

Employee Highlight of the Month

Donna has worked at BulletBlocker for six years as the Production Manager. She facilitates product production, manages employees, and interacts with customers. She helps the company run smoothly. Fun fact: Donna loves the Christmas season. Every year, she handmakes gingerbread houses for her friends and family to decorate. She also loves to watch the classic Hallmark Christmas movies.
